Nov. 11, 2003

House Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee ranking member Marcy Kaptur, D-Ohio, is leading a congressional delegation to Mexico Thursday and will continue to Miami for a Tuesday speech to trade activists and workers who are gathering for the Free Trade Area of the Americas talks. Kaptur said she would lead a group of House members to El Paso, Texas, where they will spend four days examining the impact of the North American Free Trade Agreement on both sides of the border 10 years after NAFTA went into effect.

Other members scheduled to travel with Kaptur are Reps. Jerry Costello, D-Ill., Raul Grijalva, D-Ariz., Bernard Sanders, I-Vt., Jan Schakowsky, D-Ill., Ted Strickland, D-Ohio, and Bennie Thompson, D-Miss., with further changes in the delegation possible.
